We recognise that the skills and experience you have gained in the Australian Defence Force are second-to-none and we value the diverse capabilities you can offer.

The ADF values of professionalism, loyalty, integrity, courage, innovation, respect and teamwork, align well with our values of service, professionalism, trust, respect, collaboration and engagement, honesty and integrity, courage and tenacity and sustainability.

Our approach to work-life-balance is similar and we offer great benefits too.

There are exciting opportunities for all career stages - entry level jobs, graduate roles, apprenticeships and traineeships, middle and senior management, as well as executive positions.

It is important to identify what type of job you are looking for and where you would like to work based on where you live, your interests, education, qualifications, experience, current skills and abilities.

“My advice to other veterans looking to make the transition from ADF to the SA public sector is to trust and believe in yourself. You have the tools, through your training, to become an a genuine asset to any team you join, and you could find yourself leading that team in a short period of time, if you have the will and drive to do so.” Tom, Office of the Training Advocate
